

MINE, ALL MINE

ED: Guess who'll be arriving any minute? (Go ahead, guess!)

WILL: I'm thinkin' it's your new girl, Romeo? Did I get that right?

ED: Here's the taxi and my sweetie's in it! (Oh, ain't she sweet?)

WILL: Oh, not this old routine again... oh, no. (ED: Oh, yes...)

BOTH:

Won't you look that baby over? Tell me don't you think she's fine?

It's a ho-de-do-do, I want to you to know that she's mine all mine

Get a load of those two dimples, her kisses taste like wine

It's a ho-de-do-do, I want to you to know that she's mine all mine

And if she didn't have a cent to have her name

That wouldn't matter, I'd still love her the same

But her dad has lots of money, it'll all be hers in time

It's a ho-de-do-do, that big load of dough will be mine all mine

ED: Now, see, I've been to college WILL: Where you sold those little cigarettes

ED: And acquired my thorough knowledge

WILL: Of redheads, blondes and brunettes

ED: You know I'm good with figures, and she's a total ten!

WILL: Remind me why she needs a guy like you again?

ED: Because I'm her lover! What's that to you? Huh?

WILL: Her dad and mother gonna love you, too

She's like the Queen of Sheba and Betty Boop combined

It's a ho-de-do-do, I want to you to know that she's mine all mine

Just thinkin' bout her kisses puts me on cloud nine

It's a ho-de-do-do, I want to you to know that she's mine all mine

She's got a figure that'll make you say 'Whoo!'

The Ziegfeld Follies called, 'cause they want her, too

Dr. Jazz gave her a checkup, though she tried hard to decline

I said, "No, Doctor, no! Ho-de-do-do! She's mine, all mine!"